The Childcare Act 2006 and the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2009 place separate and additional requirements on schools. At the point that an individual is convicted of, or cautioned for, a criminal offence of a specified type or category, or where they meet other disqualification criteria set out in the regulations, the Act and Regulations disqualify staff from:

- providing early years childcare[1] or later years childcare to children who have not attained the age of eight; or
- being directly concerned in the management of that childcare.

[1] ‘Early years childcare is any care for a child from birth to the 1 September following a child’s 5th birthday and includes education and any other supervised activity’.

In addition to inclusion on the Children’s Barred List, the wider disqualification criteria include:

- being cautioned for or convicted of certain violent and sexual criminal offences against children and adults;
- grounds relating to the care of children (including where an order is made in respect of a child under the person’s care);
- having registration refused or cancelled in relation to childcare or children’s homes or being disqualified from private fostering;
- living in the same household where another person who is disqualified lives or works (disqualification ‘by association’).

A full list of all the circumstances that disqualify people from working with children is available in the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2009. (http://www.legislation.gov.uk/uksi/2009/1547/contents/made)

The grounds for disqualification can be found in the childcare legislation set out above.

It is therefore a requirement that you inform your employer if you live in the same household as an individual who is disqualified from working with children/young people.
